Mad Science of Maine

Tuesday, February 21st at 10am

Mad Science is visiting the library to present a Fundamental Forces workshop. Fundamental Forces introduces children to the pushes and pulls that make the universe tick. Gravity, inertia, and centripetal force are some key concepts they discover along the way. Some exciting, hands-on investigations into forces include the bike wheel gyroscope, a coin-spinning vortex, and the balloon centrifuge.

This program is geared towards grades K - 5. Spaces are limited so please call the library at 222-1190 to reserve your spot.

Winter Meltdown

Wednesday, February 22nd at 10am

Join us to create a melty craft. We will draw an original picture or trace an image on 'shrinky dink' paper and cut out your design. A librarian will place your creation in a toaster oven and watch as your art shrinks down in the heated toaster oven. Allow cool down and take your masterpiece home. Geared to ages 6 through 18.
